LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE,
BUREAU OF THE CENSUS,
Washington, D. C., December 29, 1917.

SIR:

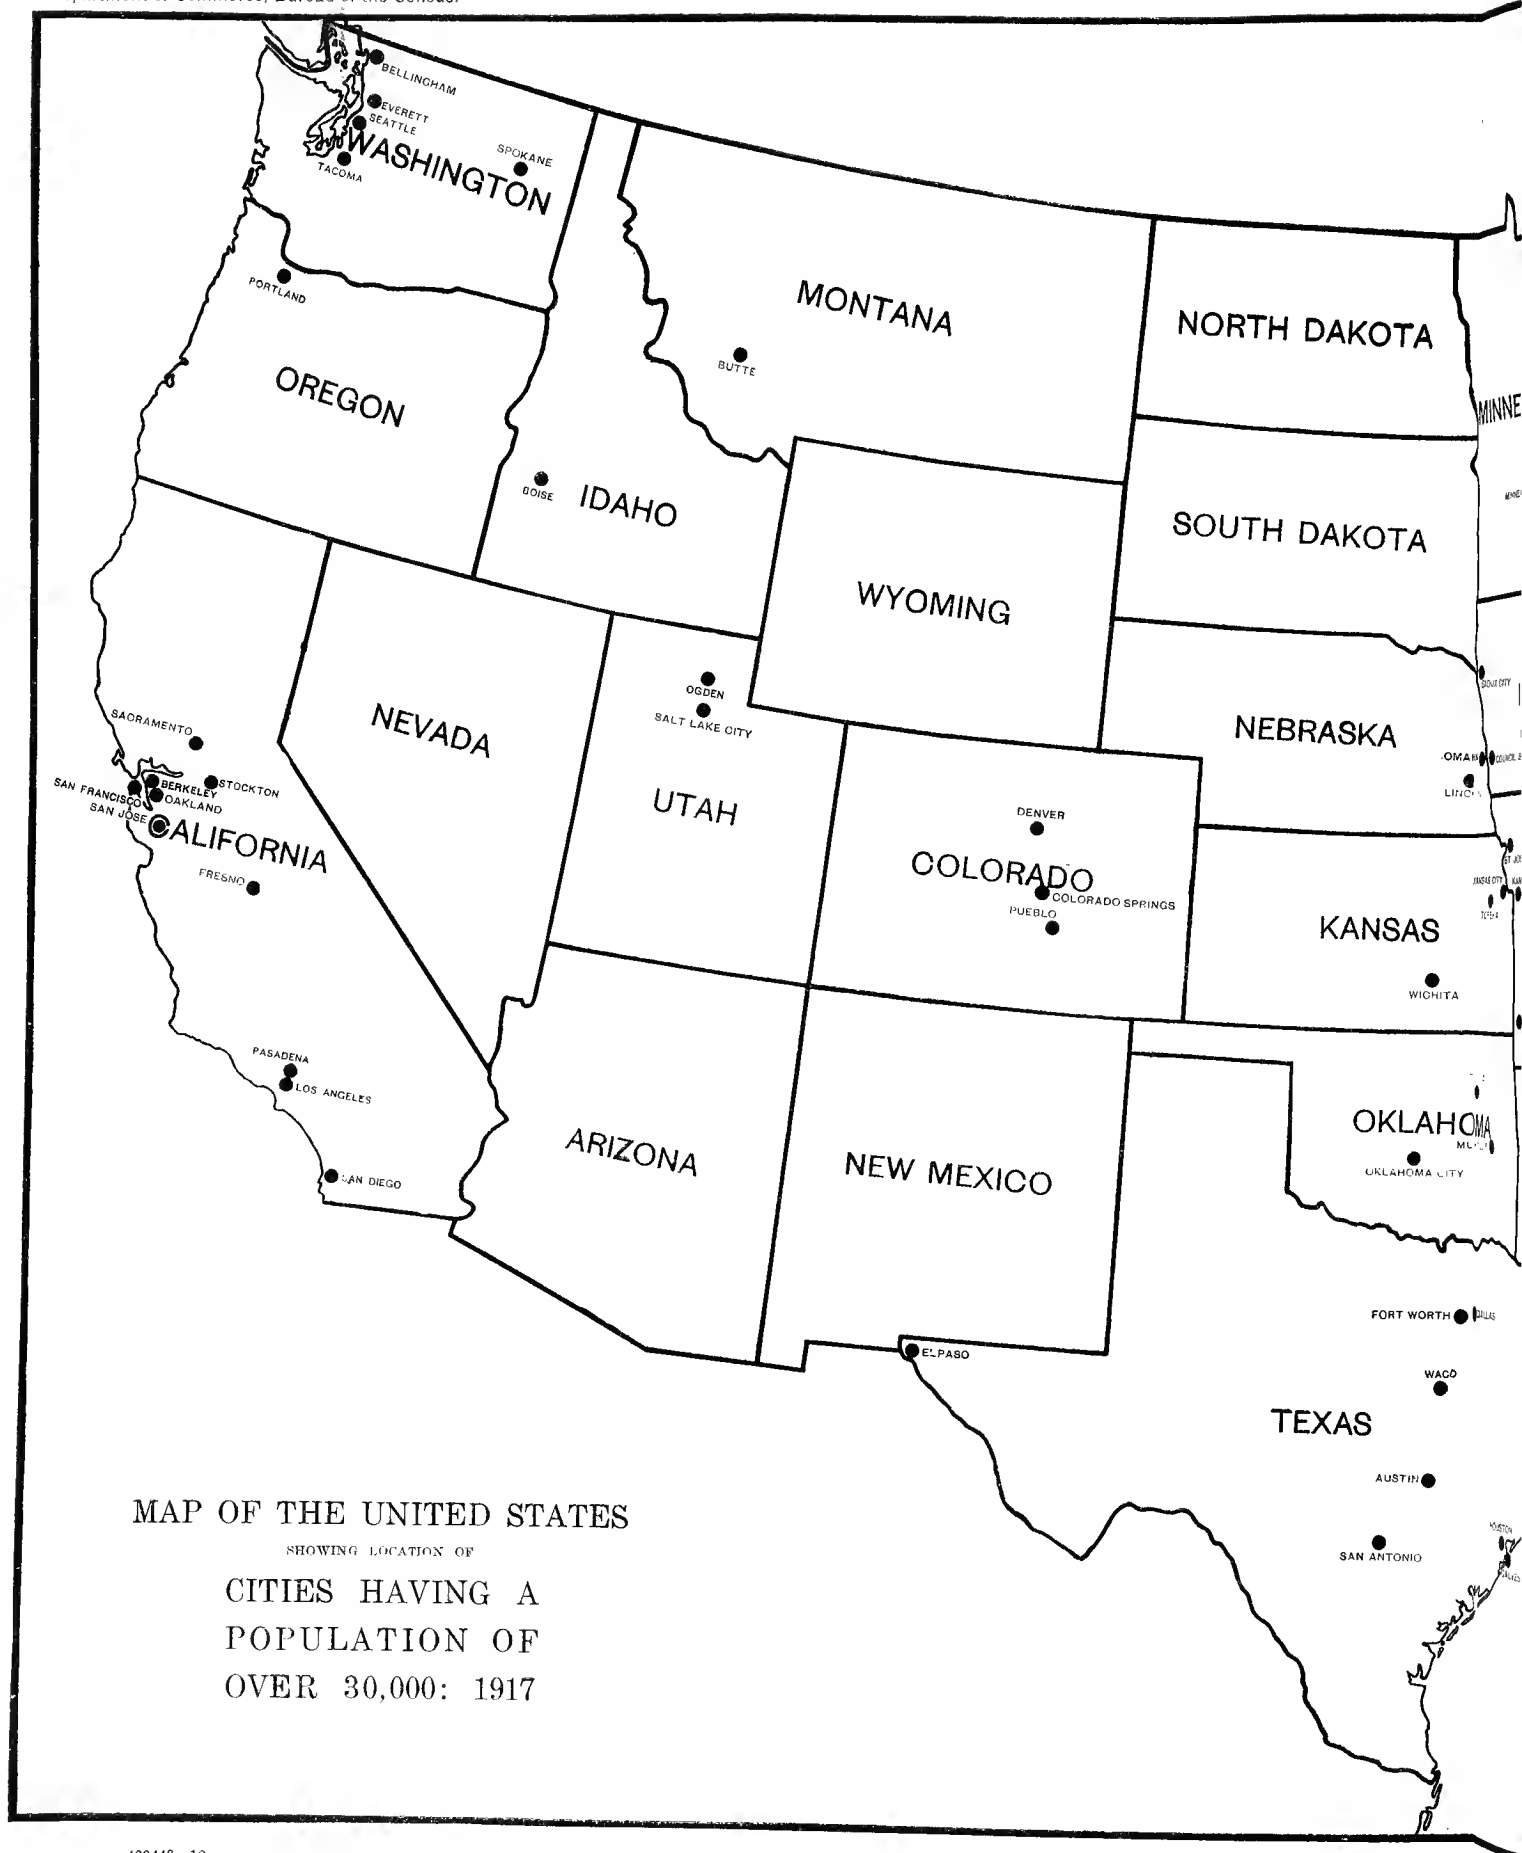

I transmit herewith a report relating to certain sources from which cities having a population of over 30,000 derived a part of their revenue in the fiscal year 1917. The data presented pertain to four sources of revenue: Special assessments, business taxes other than on the liquor traffic, general license taxes, and license taxes on dogs.

This report was prepared under the supervision of Starke M. Grogan, chief statistician for statistics of states and cities; Lemuel A. Carruthers, chief of division; and A. H. O. Rolle. The text discussion was prepared under the immediate supervision of Morris J. Hole.

Respectfully,

SAM. L. ROGERS,
Director of the Census.

Hon. WILLIAM C. REDFIELD,
Secretary of Commerce.

SPECIFIED SOURCES OF MUNICIPAL REVENUE IN CITIES HAVING A POPULATION OF OVER 30,000: 1917.

INTRODUCTION.

SCOPE OF REPORT.—The statistics of this report relate to 216 incorporated cities, the incorporated towns of Brookline, Mass., and West Hoboken, N. J., and the borough of Norristown, Pa. Each of these 219 municipalities had, at the middle of the fiscal year reported, an estimated population of over 30,000. For convenience all of these municipalities are, in this report, referred to as cities.

The following statement shows the names of all cities for which statistics are presented in this report, together with the rank of each in population, the date of the close of its fiscal year, and its estimated population at the middle of its fiscal year. The location of each of these cities is shown on the accompanying map of the United States.

SUBJECTS PRESENTED.—This report of the Bureau of the Census presents the provisions for raising certain classes of revenue, that were in force in the 219 cities having more than 30,000 inhabitants in 1917. In connection therewith there are presented certain financial statistics relative thereto. This survey covers four classes of revenue, as follows:

1. Special assessments.
 - a. For public improvements.
 - b. For public services.
2. Business taxes other than those on the liquor traffic.
 - a. Collected without issue of license.
 - b. Collected with issue of license.
3. General license taxes.
4. License taxes on dogs.

TERMINOLOGY.—The significance of the term “revenue” and of each of the four classes of revenue named above, as used by the Bureau of the Census, is set forth in the paragraphs which follow.

Municipal revenues.—Municipal revenues are the moneys and other wealth received by or placed to the credit of cities and other municipalities for governmental purposes that increase their assets without increasing their debt liabilities, or that decrease their debt liabilities without decreasing their assets. The aggregate of these moneys and other wealth constitutes the revenue of the municipality, while the portion of such wealth derived from a single source, as poll taxes, fines, or fees, is properly spoken of as a municipal revenue. The revenue of a municipality for a given fiscal year is the net amount that accrues from revenue sources for that year. It includes (1) the taxes levied in accordance with the city's financial program or budget, to meet its governmental costs during that year, whether such revenues are recorded on the tax lists in that or some other year; (2) the special assessments whose levies are authorized for the given year or otherwise made legally available for use during that year; (3) the revenues earned during the year by the operation of public service enterprises, the management of public properties and investments, the loaning of money and leasing of properties, and the performance of services; (4) revenues like subventions, which are legally due and receivable during the year; and (5) other amounts received or placed to the credit of the municipality during the year, that increased its assets without increasing its liabilities or that decreased its liabilities without also decreasing its assets.

The general property tax which accrues as above stated for a specified fiscal year of a given city depends upon the laws in force in such city with reference to the time for assessing and levying the tax, or entering the same on the tax books, and that for preparing the budget. In some cities, notably those of the state of Ohio, the tax is levied, and in part collected, before the opening of the fiscal year to which it relates; while in others, notably in Chicago and other cities in Illinois, it is levied so late in the fiscal year that the tax does not become due and collectible until some months after the beginning of the succeeding year.

Taxes and the sovereign power of taxation.—In the broad significance of the word, taxes are amounts of money, other wealth, or services which, by virtue of that sovereign power of a nation or a state, generally spoken of as the taxing power, are exacted for the support of governments, for meeting general public needs, and for other governmental purposes. The sovereign power of taxation, by virtue of which taxes in this broad sense of the word are exacted, is the power which Chief Justice Marshall declared “involves the right to destroy,” and which, when considered as a right of the government, “is a right which in its nature acknowledges no limit.” It includes the power to prescribe the conditions under which persons and corporations may engage in business and business activities, receive franchises, and enjoy common-law rights and privileges; and also the power to prescribe the conditions under which they may take and hold title to real and other property. Exercising that power, nations and states may take away from the owners of property the legal title to lands and chattels if taxes on the same are not paid when due, and may take away from persons following given occupations or businesses, holding certain franchises, or enjoying specified privileges, the right to follow, hold, or enjoy the same unless, or until, the tax is paid for that special occupation, business, franchise, or privilege.

The sovereign power of taxation is by the courts and many writers on public finance differentiated into the so-called “taxing power” and “police power,” the first including the power to raise revenue and the second the power of social, industrial, and economic regulation and control. This difference has been evolved by the courts in their efforts to reconcile or adjust the revenue-producing laws as enacted by the legislatures of the several states to the different constitutional provisions of those states. The great differences which exist in the constitutional and statutory provisions under which the 219 cities covered by this report derive their revenues render it impossible, however, for the Bureau of the Census to use this differentiation as the basis of any classification of revenue, and hence it employs the phrases “the taxing power” and “the police power” only for purposes of reference and for more exact description of certain revenues.

Subjects, objects, and methods of taxation.—Considered as exacted under the sovereign power of taxation, taxes may be levied upon every person, natural and corporate, and with reference to every object to which the legislative power of the Nation or state extends; but the subject and object of taxation and the amounts of taxes levied upon each at any given time are always determined by public needs and public policy with reference to the conservation of order in political society, the encouragement of industry, and the discouragement of pernicious employment and injurious business or other activities. Further, the revenues exacted under the sovereign power of taxation may be levied and collected by any method that may be adopted by the legislative authority of the Nation or state under which it is exacted. Special attention is here called to two of those methods involving an exaction of revenue (1) in connection with the grant of privileges by the issue of a license or permit, and (2) by the infliction of a penalty or mulct for violation of law. When taxes are exacted by the first method the license or permit is commonly granted by the government on payment of a valuable consideration, though this is not essential. According to court decisions with reference to this subject, to constitute a privilege such as is involved in this method of collecting taxes the grant must confer authority to do something which without the grant would be illegal, for if what is to be done under the license is open to everyone to do without it the grant would be idle and nugatory. But the thing to be done may be a thing lawful in itself and restricted only for the purpose of securing revenue; that is to say, restricted in order to compel the taking out of a license. This is always the case where that which is licensed is not unlawful at the common law.

The second method is that employed by the state of Ohio which collects a "liquor tax" from those engaged in the business of selling intoxicating liquors. The constitution of that state expressly prohibiting the licensing of such business, the legislature exacts an annual mulct, or penalty, from those engaged therein as an assumed punishment for violation of law.

Classification of taxes.—In enacting revenues under the sovereign power of taxation as above set forth, governments may levy and collect the same (1) without reference to any actual or assumed measurable benefits conferred upon or services performed for the taxpayer, or any actual or assumed burdens imposed upon the general public by the subject or object of taxation; (2) with reference to some actual or assumed measurable benefit conferred upon or services performed for the taxpayer, including actual or assumed measurable increase in the value of his property; (3) with reference to some actual or assumed expense or burden imposed upon the general community by reason of the subject or object of taxation; or (4) with reference to some actual or assumed violation of law.

Recognizing the four distinct sets of circumstances or conditions under which compulsory revenues are levied, many writers on public finance use the word "taxes" as the exclusive designation of the revenues obtained as stated in (1), employ the terms "fees" and "special assessments" as the designations of those obtained as described in (2) and (3), and classify those referred to under (4) as "fines" or "penalties." In its classification of the municipal revenues exacted under the so-called taxing and police powers, the Bureau of the Census employs the theoretical classification of the writers above referred to so far as the same is practicable. Revenues levied and collected with reference to property as described under (1) have been separated from those levied and collected as described under (2). When thus separated revenues such as those described under (1) are called property taxes, and the others are called special assessment or betterment taxes. In the tabulation of compulsory revenues other than those exacted with reference to property it is impossible to differentiate that portion of such revenues which was obtained under conditions stated in (1) from that secured under conditions described in (2), (3), and (4). For example, the revenues secured by the receipt of a so-called license fee from a dealer in intoxicating liquors are said by many writers to include (a) a compensation for the service of making out the license papers; (b) a payment for the privilege of conducting the business; (c) reimbursements for the special expenses of the government in supervising a business that naturally creates disorder; (d) a reimbursement for the special expenses of the government by reason of crime, pauperism, and disease that arise from the business; and (e) a tax in the narrow significance of the term as used by the writers on public finance above referred to. Revenues such as those referred to under (a) and (b) are identical in character with those previously mentioned in (2); and those referred to in (c) and (d) with those mentioned in (3); but how much of the money collected in connection with the issue of any liquor license represents revenues of the classes mentioned under (a), (b), (c), (d), or (e) is not susceptible of determination. In some states the statutes have been enacted under circumstances which indicate that the so-called license fees are levied principally for the purpose of obtaining revenue, and are therefore, according to the theory of the writers above referred to, in large part taxes. In contrast, the statutes of other states are enacted on the assumption that license fees are collected either as stated in (b), or as in (c) or (d).

What has been said above with reference to the practical separation of the revenues secured from the licenses issued to dealers in the liquor traffic is, with minor modification, applicable to all revenues collected in connection with the issue of licenses or permits or the exactions of so-called mulcts. With reference to them all, it can be said that there is no practical agreement among legislators, judges, and writers on public finance as to what portion of these revenues is received as compensation for services or other benefits conferred, or for special expenses imposed upon the government, and what portion is otherwise received.

This report is limited to a survey of the provisions affecting four sources of revenue, (1) special assessments, (2) business taxes, other than those on the liquor traffic, (3) general license taxes, and (4) license taxes on dogs.

Special assessments.—Special assessments are general proportional contributions of wealth levied against land and collected from its owners and occupants to defray the costs of specified public improvements made, or of specified public services undertaken, in the interest of the general public. Special assessments, like taxes, are levied and collected under the sovereign powers of the state, generally called taxing and police powers, but under very different conditions and subject to the application of widely different principles, as may be noted from the following comparisons based upon court decisions:

1. Taxes upon property are levied for the purpose of raising revenue (1) for meeting the general costs of government, (2) for providing for all general public needs, and (3) for other governmental purposes; and the only benefit which taxpayers in the United States at present receive is as members of organized society. The individual taxpayer is therefore poorer, in a sense, by reason of the payment. Special assessments are levied only for the purpose of providing for specified general public needs, and, in theory at least, do not leave the property owners who pay their assessments any the poorer, since they are fully compensated by the benefits conferred upon them by the improvements or by the services for which the assessments are levied.

2. Taxes may be levied upon personal as well as real property, and upon person, business, occupation, franchise, privilege, and right; but special assessments are levied upon land alone.

3. A tax is levied on the whole, or with reference to the whole, of a known political subdivision, as a state, county, city, town, or school district, or some special subdivision thereof or some special class of property therein, while a special assessment is levied on the property situated in a district created for the express purpose of a levy, and possessing no other function or even existence than to include the thing upon which the levy is made.

4. Certain properties may be specifically exempt from property taxes on account of their public character or from considerations of public policy, but no property is thus exempt from special assessments.

5. Receipts from taxes may be expended for any purpose or object for which the taxing authority may make appropriations; but receipts from special assessments may be expended only for those public improvements and public services from which an exceptional and plainly perceived benefit ensues to the property or to the occupant of the property upon which they are imposed.

6. Taxes are a continuing burden of recurrent charges which must be collected at stated short intervals, while special assessments are levied only occasionally, being exceptional both as to time and locality.

Business taxes.—Business taxes are taxes upon business and business activities exacted from persons natural and corporate (1) in proportion to the volume of their business, (2) by reason of the business in which they are engaged, or (3) by reason of some business activity which constitutes a part of their business. Business taxes as here defined may be levied with or without reference to measurable or assumed measurable benefits conferred upon or enjoyed by the taxpayers, or special expenses imposed by them upon the government. Classified with reference to the issuance of a license or permit at the time of their collection, these taxes fall into two classes called license and non-license business taxes.

License business taxes are taxes exacted in connection with the issue of a written instrument called a license or permit, which authorizes the licensee to engage in some specified business or business activity. Nonlicense business taxes are business taxes exacted without the issuance of a license.

General license taxes.—General license taxes include all nonbusiness license taxes that are collected in connection with the issuance of licenses or permits other than for keeping dogs, which are granted for a specified period of time, as a year, month, or day. Among taxes of this kind are those collected from persons keeping vehicles, as automobiles, bicycles, etc., irrespective of whether these vehicles are used for business or pleasure.

License taxes on dogs.—License taxes on dogs include all taxes which are collected from the owners of dogs in connection with the issue of licenses or permits to keep such animals for a specified period of time, generally a year.

PURPOSE OF REPORT.—The loss of revenue because of the prohibition of the liquor traffic, and the limitations placed upon the general property tax rate, which have been felt by many cities in recent years, suggested the advisability of presenting in as extended form as practicable the regulations in operation, in the cities having over 30,000 inhabitants, relative to the four classes of revenue to which this volume is devoted.

While there has been a marked decrease in the receipts from taxes on the liquor traffic there has been but little provision to meet such loss by the imposition of license taxes on other kinds of business. The comparisons made in Tables 1 and 2 are for the purpose of presenting information, and should not be understood as carrying recommendations for the adoption of any special method of raising revenue. City officials concerned with the raising of revenue are subject to many limitations expressed in constitutional provisions, statutes, and ordinances. The sources of revenue and the extent to which each of them shall be employed for the benefit of a municipality will vary in accordance with the views of the people when forming or amending their constitution and with those of the legislative bodies when exercising the powers therein granted. Changes in economic conditions and in the public belief as to the proper adjustment of the burdens of taxation and the incidence of the various forms of taxation necessarily bring about the revision of revenue laws. The support of government is a fundamental principle; the methods to be employed in relation thereto require the widest knowledge and the best judgment available. The purpose of this compilation will be accomplished if the data presented prove to be of assistance to the municipalities in selecting and adopting the best systems of revenue in use by other cities to such an extent as may be desirable or may be possible under existing statutes and charters, or if it shall suggest legislation that shall result in a more equitable distribution of tax burdens.

While presenting data intended to point out means of offsetting loss of revenue through the discontinuance of license and other taxes on the liquor traffic, the bureau does not overlook the claim of the advocates of prohibition of the liquor traffic that such prohibition will result in a decrease in certain municipal costs. Whatever may be the extent of such decrease in costs, it is clear that many years must elapse before the disappearance of the excess in the classes of costs to which reference is made. The first effect upon the municipal finances is a shrinkage of revenue, which must be offset by new forms of taxation or by increasing the levies on objects, persons, privileges, or occupations already taxed. In view of this fact, the legislatures should provide such offsets, the beginning of their operation to be coincident with the termination of licenses and other taxes on the liquor traffic.

REVENUE DERIVED FROM TAXES ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.—The proportion of revenue derived from taxes on the liquor traffic for the use of cities having more than 30,000 inhabitants, has decreased almost constantly since the Bureau of the Census began its series of annual reports on financial statistics of cities. The decrease would have been more rapid than it has been but for the large increase in the rates of license and other taxes levied upon manufacturers and dealers.

The following statement shows for the odd years 1903 to 1917 the number of cities having a population of over 30,000, their total revenue receipts, the receipts from taxes on the liquor traffic and from other business licenses, and the per cent of the total revenue constituted by each of these classes of revenue.

This statement shows that while the receipts from license taxes other than on the liquor traffic constituted practically the same percentage of the total revenue receipts for each of the years, the receipts from license and other taxes on the liquor traffic, as compared with the total revenue receipts, decreased from 6.1 per cent in 1903 to 3.5 per cent in 1917, the decrease being constant except for the year 1907. The increase of 0.6 in the per cent shown for 1907 over that for 1905 was the result of very considerable advances in the rates of these taxes and in the consequent increase in receipts therefrom. References to Tables 1 and 2 of this report disclose the fact that a large part of this increase was in the receipts of San Francisco, Cal.; Chicago, Ill.; New Orleans, La.; Detroit, Mich.; Jersey City and Newark, N. J.; and several cities of Ohio.

The relative number of cities of over 30,000 inhabitants which derived revenue from liquor taxes in the years 1917 and 1903 is shown in the following statement, which sets forth the number of cities of that size in each state and the number receiving such revenue in those years.

² Exclusive of Cambridge, which received $46; Fitchburg, which received $20; Newton, which received $25; and Somerville, which received $22.

³ Nashville received $1,005, delinquent liquor tax of former years.

In Wilmington, Del., the license taxes on the liquor traffic are collected and retained by the state; and in the two cities of South Carolina the traffic is handled by the county dispensaries, one-third of the profits being paid over to the cities and classified by this bureau as receipts from public service enterprises instead of from license taxes. In cities other than the three just mentioned, which have no receipts from taxes on the liquor traffic, liquor is not legally sold.

The cities of over 30,000 inhabitants that reported receipts from taxes on the liquor traffic numbered 133 in 1903 and 155 in 1917, or 91.1 per cent and 70.8 per cent of the total number of cities of this size in the respective years as shown in the above statement. The small amounts shown in footnotes as received by certain cities of Massachusetts, and the receipt of delinquent taxes in Nashville, Tenn., are negligible in a study of the revenue systems of the cities, the former representing small license collections from druggists and the latter merely recording transactions delayed from former years.

REVENUE RECEIPTS FROM TAXES ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC AND FROM OTHER BUSINESS LICENSE TAXES.—Tables 1 and 2, which follow, present for each city of over 30,000 inhabitants, for the odd years 1903 to 1917, such data pertaining to receipts from liquor taxes and other business license taxes as are requisite to an understanding of their comparative value as revenue producers as employed in the several years, the amounts of such revenue receipts being shown in Table 1 and their per cent relation to the total revenue receipts being shown in Table 2.

RECEIPTS FROM SPECIFIED SOURCES OF REVENUE.—The revenue receipts for the fiscal year 1917 from the four sources of revenue for which schedules are presented in this report, together with the total revenue receipts for that year, are shown in Table 3. This table also shows the per cent which receipts from each of the four sources constituted of the total revenue receipts.

PER CENT DISTRIBUTION OF ALL REVENUE RECEIPTS.—If any attempt has been made to bring about a balanced revenue system, the products of which are designed to conform to standard proportions, a study of the per cent relation of the different classes of municipal revenue will show that such a design is far from accomplishment. These relationships are brought out in Table 4, which shows the per cent distribution of all revenues of the 219 cities for which data are presented in this report. In this table the cities are arranged in order of size and are divided into five groups in accordance with their population. The data include not only those for the individual cities, but also those for all of the 219 cities and for each of the five groups. The grand total and the group totals, therefore, represent composites, or averages, and thus reflect the summation of effort on the part of individual cities to arrive at a properly balanced revenue system.

In the column of Table 4 headed "Subventions, grants, gifts, donations, and pension assessments," it will be observed that the per cent shown for Group I is very small as compared with those for the other groups of cities. This is due to a number of causes. In most cities the principal amounts entering into the calculation for this column represent subventions from the state and county for the use of schools. Certain cities of this group have combined city and county functions, and for this reason such amounts as are received by other cities in the same state as subventions from the counties are by these particular cities received as from the original sources, principally from the general property tax. The cities of Group I which have combined city and county functions are New York, N. Y., Philadelphia, Pa., St. Louis, Mo., Boston, Mass., and Baltimore, Md. For the purpose of securing greater comparability in the data for the cities of Group I, and also for those of Group II, which are located in counties having the usual county functions, there is added such percentage of the county receipts from revenue as the assessed valuation, for purposes of the general property tax, within the city constitutes of that within the county. Because of this method of treatment revenue that otherwise would be classed as a subvention is classed in accordance with its character when reaching the county treasury. The per cent for Group II, in the column referred to, is larger than that for any other group. The conditions mentioned as influencing the corresponding per cent for Group I likewise influence that for Group II, but such influences are overcome by the peculiar conditions which prevail in Washington, D. C. The National Government, by the terms of an act of Congress that became operative on June 11, 1878, assumes one-half of the principal expenditures of the District of Columbia, which is coterminous with the city of Washington. This is classed as a grant, and the remarkably large per cent for Washington is due to its receipt. The cities of Group II that have both city and county functions, in addition to the city of Washington, are San Francisco, Cal., and New Orleans, La.

The inclusion of data in Table 4 for classes of revenue other than those to which this report is especially devoted renders it possible to make comparisons with better results than would be possible without such data. Some of the cities have public service enterprises and others have not. The receipts from these vary widely, according to the kinds of enterprises and the extent to which they are operated. Such revenues are usually devoted to the maintenance of the enterprises from which they are derived, to the payment of interest on debt obligations incurred on their account, to sinking fund accumulations for the amortization of such debt, and in some instances to the extension of the system operated as a public service enterprise. A city without such an enterprise has no costs such as those mentioned and is not required to raise revenue to meet such costs. Its revenues are, therefore, smaller than would be required if enterprises were operated by it. The presence or absence of revenue receipts on account of public service enterprises must be noted in comparing the per cents of revenues received by any two cities from any group of revenues shown in Table 4. If a city derives 20 per cent of its revenue receipts from such enterprises all other revenue receipts constitute but 80 per cent of the total, while for the city without an enterprise the revenue receipts from other sources constitute 100 per cent of the total, and the excess of 20 per cent is shared by each class of revenue receipts shown in the table.

SCHEDULES OF MUNICIPAL REVENUE FROM SPECIFIED SOURCES.—The noncomparability of data pertaining to provisions for some of the classes of revenue covered in this survey precludes any attempt to present them in tabular form. This is particularly true of the business licenses and general licenses, when the conditions upon which the various rates are based conform to no common standard of classification or nomenclature. Since these data in their entirety must be presented by cities, it is deemed best to follow the same scheme of presentation for all of the four classes of revenue.

Special assessments.—The provisions reported for special assessments are those which are usually followed, but in most cities they are subject to such modification as may be necessary to provide for exceptional cases. In Pittsburgh, Pa., the per cents of the costs of improvements reported as assessed against benefited property represent merely the averages for the year reported. In that city each improvement is subject to separate consideration, and the benefits and damages awarded by the viewers are such as appear to them just and reasonable, after taking into account all the conditions that can affect such adjustment, all cost of the improvement being assessed against benefited property in some cases and against the city in general in other cases. In most cases property bears varying percentages of the costs, the benefits being determined as affecting individual properties and not according to any fixed ratio. It is probable that the data reported for a number of the other cities are of the same character and show the results of the year rather than fixed policies.

The distinction between charges and special assessments is not always observed, especially in such cases as sidewalk construction, repair, and cleaning, the cutting of grass and weeds, and the removal of dangerous buildings and obstructions. This is due principally to the fact that collections for these services are in many cases made by the agencies that collect special assessments. If the policy of the city requires that the property owners construct sidewalks and keep them in repair, and the city does this work only when the property owner, after due notification has failed to do it, the cost of this work, though properly a charge and not a special assessment, is frequently included with special assessments because collected through the same agency and in the same manner as special assessments. The cutting of grass and weeds on vacant lots by the city, where the owner has failed to have it done, gives rise to a charge and not to a special assessment, while if the city according to a fixed policy takes care of the lawn between the curb and sidewalk and prorates the cost against the abutting property, this cost is properly termed a special assessment. Because of the difficulty of ascertaining the facts in all cases it is probable that certain charges of the character just mentioned have been included under the classification of special assessments as reported in the preceding tables.

The practice of the several cities in regard to the levying of special assessments, as shown in this report, is that reported to agents of this bureau by officials of the cities. The time allotted to this survey was not sufficient to permit of a thorough checking of the provisions of statutes, charters, and ordinances, such as would be necessary in an absolute verification of the provisions relating to this subject.

The practice of cities in regard to financing the costs of improvements at street intersections was not included among the inquiries made preparatory to this report. For about one-third of the cities, however, it was reported that the cost of paving street intersections was met entirely from general revenues of the city, and it is probable that this practice prevails in a majority of the cities.

Excess condemnation.—Closely related to the levying of special assessments is one form of the procedure, found in certain foreign countries, but rarely met with in the United States, which is designated by the term "excess condemnation." Special assessments are justified on the ground of benefit. The measure of this benefit is difficult of determination. When a city takes over the property affected, the increase in value due to improvements accrues to the community by coming directly into the city treasury upon the sale or through the rental of the excess property.

Although the principle of excess condemnation has been applied only slightly in this country, it has been much discussed and in some cities has gained more or less recognition. Its primary application was in connection with land remnants resulting from the opening of new streets and the widening of old ones. It frequently happens that such changes in the streets of a city necessitate the cutting of lots in such a way that small irregular parcels, or long narrow strips of land will be left bordering upon the newly improved street. These parcels of land being too small to be of use for building purposes, leave the original owner in much the same condition as if the entire property had been used for street purposes. For the purpose of avoiding the injustice due to this cause being inflicted upon the property owner, statutes have been enacted by a number of state legislatures providing that the city may acquire such land remnants and later sell them at such prices as may be secured. In this way the remnants are readily attached in ownership to the lots to which they are contiguous. This application of excess condemnation has for its purpose, therefore, the avoidance of financial loss to the original owners of such land remnants, and was not designed to assist materially in financing improvement projects.

Another application of this principle is found in certain statutes and constitutional amendments providing that municipalities may acquire land in excess of that to be improved, for the purpose of (1) regulating the character of structures to be erected upon the land in such a way as to guarantee that the improvement itself shall not be marred by the proximity of shabby, incongruous or otherwise objectionable structures, and (2) securing to the municipality itself the increase of value or increment earned by the improvement. The second of these purposes is very closely related to the system of special assessments so commonly employed by cities of the United States. The difficulty of determining the amount of benefit that may accrue to a property because of an improvement is so great and so frequently results in dissatisfaction on the part of the property owner and in litigation, that students of this subject have sought for a method of procedure that would result in securing to the city the exact increase in value without additions or deductions. This requirement would appear to be fulfilled when the city purchases the property at its old value and sells it at its new value.

It is evident that this form of procedure takes no account of the sentimental value that a property owner may place upon his home or the business interest that he may have in his particular location. To obviate the hardship that the strict application of this principle may inflict, a provision has been introduced into some of the statutes providing that the former property owner should have the first right to buy back the property after the new value has been determined. This provision would allow one to retain the piece of land to which he was attached as a place of residence, and it would also insure his being able to retain a place of business where the location, because of local trade already built up, might mean much to him. Although this principle has made some progress in this country and may be applied with certain definite restrictions by a number of cities, it has been very cautiously used, and its practicability may be regarded as on trial rather than thoroughly demonstrated.

In the reconstruction of the city of Paris, which was in progress for some fifteen years following the middle of the last century, the principle of excess condemnation was applied so far as it pertained to the taking over of land remnants and even of other properties bordering on newly constructed boulevards, which constitute one of the principal distinguishing characteristics of the modern city of Paris. In a number of other cities of Europe and in some of the Canadian cities, this principle has been applied, not only for the purpose of taking care of land remnants and of dictating the character of structures to be erected, but also for the purpose of assisting in the solution of financial problems raised in connection with improvements.

If the purpose of condemning property in excess of that required for improvement is simply to guarantee the full extent of an improvement as planned, without detraction caused by incongruous surroundings, it is usually not difficult to determine the extent of the additional land to be acquired. Some provisions stipulate that a strip of land 200 feet wide on either side of the improvement, may be acquired for the purpose of guaranteeing the full enjoyment of beauty, light, and air for which a boulevard is to be constructed; other provisions would limit the width of such strip of land to that required for one row of building lots. Where, however, an attempt is made to secure to the city all increase of land values due to an improvement, such as a park, a boulevard, or a monumental public building the problem is much more intricate in its details, and the judgment of any commission appointed to determine such area is likely to meet with much opposition on the part of the property owners and to result in delay because of litigation.

The survey preliminary to the preparation of this report, did not include any inquiries bearing especially on the authority of cities to condemn land in excess of that actually required for improvements, and the reports received do not furnish data upon this subject. A brief reference to the subject has been here introduced merely in the way of suggesting the study of this comparatively modern, and so far as this country is concerned, little used method of accomplishing what is usually accomplished to a greater or less extent by the levying of special assessments.

Business licenses other than on the liquor traffic.—A complete statement of all details of bases and rates of licenses is not attempted, as such a presentation would require a report much more extended than this is designed to be. It is believed, however, that sufficient information is presented to enable those interested to secure an accurate notion of the general plan upon which each city proceeds and exact data concerning a large part of that scheme. The license tax on many kinds of business is graduated, the different rates being based upon the amount of business, floor space, seating capacity, admission charge, etc. In such cases the character of the determining base is described, as far as reported, and the minimum and maximum rates are given. A complete list of basic details and of rates would require, for many cities, twice or three times the space accorded to them in this report.

Printed lists presenting complete details relating to the different kinds of business licensed and the rates collected were supplied by comparatively few of the cities covered in the survey. Where such lists were not available the agents of the bureau secured the information from separate ordinances and from city officials. Since the details presented in this report were derived from the printed lists of such cities as furnished them, and from personal inquiry in other cities, it is possible that there may be less uniformity of results than might have been secured if complete license lists had been supplied by all cities. Further difficulty was experienced because of the fact that in many cities the license fees are collected by a number of different city officials instead of by a single official, as the treasurer or license collector. In one of the large cities licenses are issued and the fees collected by eight separate offices: Those for junk dealers, bill-posters, and all kinds of amusements are issued by the police bureau; those for transient retail merchants, peddlers, and slot machines, by the city treasurer; those for engineers, by the bureau of boiler inspection; those for moving picture machine operators, by the bureau of electricity; those for milk dealers, by the bureau of food inspection; those for plumbers, by the division of plumbing and house drainage; those for dealers in or those who store ammunition, blasting-powder, fireworks, gunpowder, petroleum, and turpentine, or those who operate dyeing and cleaning establishments, by the bureau of building inspection; and those for lodging houses, by the mayor. This distribution of authority in the issuance of licenses and collection of license fees is characteristic of the organization in many cities pertaining to this particular function of municipal control. Because of such division of authority it is probable that the data presented in this report are incomplete in certain particulars, but it is thought that the omissions due to this cause are so few as to detract but slightly from the value of the compilation.

Cities having a central license office usually avail themselves of all the advantages of divided authority by requiring a favorable report after an inspection by an official designated by some such title as "license inspector," or by inspectors specially detailed from the branch of municipal service most concerned with the regulation of the particular kind of business for which a license is sought or with overcoming results of carelessness in the conduct of such business.

The terms employed to describe the different kinds of business licensed are, with few exceptions, those in use in the several cities; and though they vary greatly in many cases it is thought better to adhere to the local usage rather than to attempt to classify them under uniform heads. If uniformity were desirable, many of the details required for perfecting such a classification are wanting. The arrangement of items in alphabetical order may be of some advantage, though such advantage is not as great as it would have been if the terms used were in all cases uniform. However, since the list for any given city is brought into as small a space as clearness permits, comparisons of data for the several cities can be made without great inconvenience. The license lists of some cities provide in considerable detail for combinations of different kinds of business conducted under one management, while others do not make such provision. Doubtless the practice in many cities is similar to that reported in St. Joseph, Mo., where in case of two or more kinds of business being jointly conducted, the license fee exacted is the amount established for the line that would be subject to the highest rate if independently handled.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS, BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC, GENERAL LICENSE TAXES, AND LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

ALABAMA.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

Special assessments are levied in Birmingham and Montgomery for the entire cost of paving streets, setting curbs, laying sidewalks, and constructing lateral sewers; and in Birmingham for the entire cost, also, of grading streets and paving alleys and one-half the cost of building trunk sewers.

In Mobile special assessments are levied for two-thirds of the cost of paving principal business streets and for the full cost of paving all other streets.

b.—For public services.

No special assessments are levied for public services.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

In Birmingham a tax of one-half of 1 per cent is levied on gross premiums collected by fire insurance companies.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for the different cities each kind of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

SPECIFIED SOURCES OF REVENUE—CALIFORNIA. CALIFORNIA.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

Special assessments for public improvements in California cities are generally made under a statute known as the Vrooman Act.

The entire cost of opening and grading streets, paving streets and alleys, setting curbs, and constructing sidewalks and lateral sewers is assessed against benefited property owners in Berkeley, Fresno, Los Angeles, Oakland, Sacramento, San Diego, San Jose, and Stockton.

In Los Angeles 100 per cent of the cost of constructing trunk sewers is assessed against the benefited property, in Pasadena 85 per cent, and in Oakland 50 per cent.

The entire cost of the erection of street lights in Los Angeles and of ornamental lights only in Fresno and Pasadena is assessed against the benefited property owners.

In addition to the improvements mentioned for Pasadena 100 per cent of the cost of opening streets and 85 per cent of the cost of paving streets and of making conduit improvements falls upon the benefited property as special assessments.

San Francisco assesses the property owners for the entire cost of opening streets and of constructing lateral sewers. Outlays for street grading, street and alley paving, curbing, sidewalks, parkings and parkways, and certain trunk sewers are assessed against property benefited on the basis of either 50 or 100 per cent, usually the latter, contingent upon the value of such property and the extent of the area benefited.

b.—For public services.

The cost of cutting weeds is assessed in full against property owners in Los Angeles, Pasadena, and Sacramento. The cost of reeling streets and of caring for street parking in Pasadena and San Francisco is assessed on the same basis, except that in the latter an amount not to exceed one-half of the cost may be paid out of the general treasury.

Special assessments for street lighting are made against the property owners in the city of Los Angeles for an average of 85 per cent of the cost, the city at large assuming as its share the cost of one arc light at each street intersection. Assessments for street lighting are levied also in Fresno and San Diego, the benefited property owners in the former city being assessed for the entire cost of current for electroliers during the first two years after their installation and in the latter for four-fifths of the cost of ornamental street lighting in certain lighting districts.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

The state collects taxes on gross earnings of public service corporations in lieu of all other taxes and turns over to the cities, on demand, an amount equal to what each city would have collected from such corporations located within such city, to cover payment of bonded indebtedness incurred prior to 1910 and interest thereon.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

In only three cities are general license taxes imposed. These are San Francisco and San Diego, in each of which a license of $3 per year is required for carrying concealed weapons, and Oakland in which a license of $2.50 per year is required for carrying revolvers.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

The annual license tax in Berkeley, Los Angeles, and San Jose is $2 each and in San Francisco $1.50 each on dogs of either sex; in Oakland and Pasadena $1.50 each on males and $2.50 each on females; in Fresno, Sacramento, and San Diego $1 each on males and $2.50, $1.50, and $3, respectively, on each female; in Stockton $1.50 and $3 each on males and females, respectively.

Oakland also reports a tax on kennels of $10 per year, and in Pasadena there is an annual license tax of 50 cents on each cat.

COLORADO.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

In the cities of over 30,000 inhabitants all costs of the following public improvements are assessed against benefited property: Opening and grading streets, paving streets and alleys, setting curbs, and constructing sidewalks and trunk and lateral sewers.

Colorado Springs assesses the entire cost of water main extensions against benefited property.

b.—For public services.

No special assessments are levied for public services.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

No business taxes are collected without issue of license in any of the three cities in the state.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for each city the kinds of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

Jacksonville imposes a general license tax on automobile operators of $1 each per year; and on automobiles for private use, $2 to $5 each per year, based on seating capacity.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

The annual license tax in Jacksonville is $1 each on dogs of either sex, and in Tampa $1 each on males and $2 on females.

GEORGIA.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

Special assessments are levied against benefited property for two-thirds of the cost of street paving in Atlanta, Macon, and Savannah; of paving alleys and setting curbs in Macon; and for the entire cost of setting curbs in Atlanta and Augusta; also for the cost of laying sidewalks in each of the four cities reported. In Atlanta and Augusta assessments of 60 cents and 25 cents per foot, respectively, are levied against benefited property for lateral sewers.

b.—For public services.

In Atlanta a sanitary tax of $3 for each house is collected for the purpose of removing garbage, and in Augusta the entire cost of sprinkling unpaved streets is charged against the benefited property.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

A tax on gross premiums received by insurance companies is collected in three cities. The rates are 1 per cent in Atlanta, 1½ per cent in Augusta, and 1¼ per cent in Macon.

SPECIFIED SOURCES OF REVENUE—GEORGIA.

53

In Macon wholesale dealers in gasoline pay a tax of one-half of 1 per cent on amount of sales.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for each city the kinds of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

No general license taxes are collected

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

There is an annual license tax on dogs of $1 each in Augusta, Macon, and Savannah.

IDAHO.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

In Boise, which is the only city in Idaho of over 30,000 inhabitants, the entire cost of grading streets, paving streets and alleys, laying sidewalks, setting curbs, and constructing trunk and lateral sewers is assessed against benefited property. Four-fifths of the cost of installing "white way" or ornamental street lights is also assessed against benefited property.

b.—For public services.

The cost of sprinkling streets and cutting weeds is assessed against benefited property.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC

a.—Collected without issue of license.

No business taxes are collected without the issue of a license by the city of Boise.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statement shows each kind of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

There is an annual license tax of $3 on each male dog and $5 on each female dog.

ILLINOIS.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

With the exception of grading streets in Springfield and East St. Louis, opening streets in Quincy, and paving alleys in Danville, for which no special assessments are levied against benefited property, and setting curbs in Danville for which three-fourths of the costs are assessed against benefited property, Chicago, Danville, Decatur, East St. Louis, Peoria, Quincy, Rockford, and Springfield assess the property benefited for practically the entire cost of opening and grading streets, paving streets and alleys, setting curbs, laying sidewalks, and constructing trunk and lateral sewers.

Special assessments are levied in Joliet for the entire cost of sidewalk laying and of street opening; also, in Aurora for the entire cost of the former and approximately 95 per cent of the cost of the latter. Benefited properties in Aurora and Joliet are assessed on an average 85 and 90 per cent, respectively, of the cost of grading and paving streets, paving alleys, setting curbs, and constructing trunk and lateral sewers.

To pay the costs of extending water mains special assessments are levied in 3 cities. These are Decatur, in which the property is assessed for the full amount; Joliet, in which it is assessed for 90 per cent of the costs; and Chicago, in which it is assessed for what ultimately amounts to 10 per cent of the costs.

In one city only—Decatur—the full cost of installing ornamental street lights is assessed against the property benefited.

b.—For public services.

Public services for which special assessments are levied against benefited property are not reported by any of the 10 cities of over 30,000 inhabitants in Illinois.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

In Illinois a tax for the benefit of the fire department of the city is levied on foreign fire insurance companies to the amount of 2 per cent of premiums collected within the city by their agents

b.—Collected with issue of license

The following statements show for the different cities each kind of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

In Chicago annual licenses on vehicles are as follows: Automobile, rate based on horsepower, $10 to $25; demonstration car, $1; automobile truck, rate based on capacity, $15 to $30; motor bicycle or tricycle, $3; horse-drawn vehicle, rate based on number of horses, $5 to $25.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

Except in Danville dogs are taxed in all of the cities reported in Illinois, the rate per year on each dog being as follows: Decatur, East St. Louis, Quincy, and Rockford, males $1, females $2; Aurora, males $1, females $3; Chicago, males $2, females $3; Joliet, both males and females $2; Peoria, both males and females $1; and Springfield, males $1, females $5.

INDIANA.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

In the cities of over 30,000 inhabitants all costs of the following public improvements are assessed against benefited property: Street opening and grading, street and alley paving, curb setting, and sidewalk and trunk and lateral sewer construction.

In Indianapolis the cost of parking in streets, and of certain park and other general improvements under the board of park commissioners, is assessed against benefited property.

In Fort Wayne the cost of acquiring and improving land for park purposes may be assessed against the benefited property. This is done under the provisions of a state law applicable to second-class cities, the acceptance of which is optional with the cities affected.

b.—For public services.

Evansville assesses the entire cost of street sprinkling against benefited property.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

No business taxes are collected without issue of license in any of the cities of over 30,000 inhabitants

SPECIFIED SOURCES OF REVENUE—INDIANA.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

In Indianapolis and Terre Haute the annual license taxes on each dog are $2 and $1, respectively; in Evansville, $1 each on male dogs and $2 each on female dogs.

IOWA.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

For opening and grading streets the percentage of cost levied against benefited property in the different cities is as follows: Cedar Rapids and Waterloo, 100 per cent for both opening and grading; Davenport, from 30 to 100 per cent for opening and 80 per cent for grading; Des Moines, 100 per cent for opening; and Sioux City, 50 to 100 per cent for grading certain streets or roads.

The entire cost of street and alley paving, and of constructing curbs, sidewalks, and trunk and lateral sewers is assessed against the benefited property in each of the seven cities in Iowa having over 30,000 inhabitants with the following exceptions:

In Davenport the percentage of cost assessed against the benefited property is 90 per cent for trunk sewers and 80 per cent for street and alley paving. For trunk sewers, also, the percentage varies in Des Moines from 40 to 70 per cent, and in Sioux City no special assessments are made for trunk sewers. In addition to the foregoing, in Council Bluffs an amount not to exceed 25 per cent of its appraised value may be assessed against benefited property for each of the different kinds of improvements.

b.—For public services.

Ordinarily in the cities reported in Iowa the property owners keep their lots free from weeds and remove snow from the sidewalks in front of their property. However, in case of their failure to do so the city performs the service and charges the cost against the property. Such charges collected as special assessment taxes, are reported by Des Moines for snow removal and by Cedar Rapids, Council Bluffs, Davenport, and Sioux City for both snow removal and weed cutting.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

In none of the cities reported are business taxes collected without the issue of a license.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for each city the kinds of business licensed and the tax rates imposed for the periods specified.

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

In none of the cities having over 30,000 inhabitants are any general license taxes collected.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

In the cities reported the annual dog license taxes are collected at the following rates, each: Cedar Rapids, males $1, females $3; Council Bluffs, males $2, females $5; Davenport, males $2.50, females $5; Des Moines, both males and females, $1.50; Dubuque, males $1, females $3; Sioux City, males $1, females $2; and Waterloo, males $1, females $2.

KANSAS.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

The costs of opening, grading, and paving streets and alleys, setting curbs, laying sidewalks, and constructing trunk and lateral sewers in Kansas City, Topeka, and Wichita are assessed against the properties benefited. Kansas City also levies special assessments on property in certain lighting districts for installing ornamental street lights.

b.—For public services.

Topeka and Wichita levy special assessments for the cost of cutting weeds, Topeka for filling in lots, and Wichita for oiling streets.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

Foreign insurance companies pay to the state 2 per cent on the gross premiums collected in each city, and this tax, less 3 per cent, is paid to the firemen's associations in the cities where collected.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for Kansas cities the kinds of business licensed and the tax rates imposed for the periods specified.

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

No general license taxes are collected by any of the three cities reported.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

Dog license taxes are collected by the different cities at the following rates, each, per year: Kansas City, males $1.50, females $2.50; Topeka, males $1, females $5; Wichita, males $1, females $2.50.

KENTUCKY.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

In Covington all costs of grading streets, paving streets and alleys, setting curbs, and constructing sidewalks, and $1 per foot for lateral sewers are assessed against benefited property.

In Lexington and Louisville benefited property is assessed for all costs of original paving of streets and alleys and of setting curbs and constructing sidewalks. Benefited property in Lexington is assessed for the entire cost of sanitary sewers, and in Louisville for the entire cost of fire hydrants.

In Newport all costs of original paving of streets and alleys, one-half of the cost of their replacement, and all costs of curbs and sidewalks are assessed against the benefited property

b.—For public services.

No special assessments are levied for public services.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

No business taxes are levied without the issue of license in the four cities of over 30,000 inhabitants.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for each city the kinds of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

The entire cost of opening streets, 50 per cent of the cost of setting curbs and constructing sidewalks, and 66⅔ per cent of the cost of constructing lateral sewers are assessed against benefited property in Portland.

b.—For public services.

The entire cost of moth extermination and 90 per cent of the cost of street sprinkling are assessed against benefited property.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

The state collects business taxes from telegraph, telephone, and railroad companies and pays therefrom to each city or town in the state an amount equal to 1 per cent of the capital stock of such companies held by residents of that municipality, the total so paid not exceeding the amount collected. The tax imposed on each telegraph or telephone company varies according to the amount of the gross annual receipts collected within the state from 1¼ per cent to 6 per cent of such receipts. The tax imposed on each railroad company for each mile of railroad operated within the state is a percentage of the average gross transportation receipts per mile of the entire system both within and without the state, the percentage varying according to the amount of such average receipts per mile from one-fourth of 1 per cent to 4 per cent for a street-railroad company, and from one-half of 1 per cent to 5½ per cent for any other railroad company.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statement shows for Portland the kinds of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

In Baltimore the entire cost of opening streets is assessed against the benefited property.

For street paving, assessments are levied and collected in ten annual installments each of which is determined as follows: 15 cents per front foot on streets 30 feet wide, or over, from curb to curb; 10 cents per front foot on streets 15 feet to 30 feet wide; and 5 cents per front foot on streets less than 15 feet wide. On streets with railway tracks the railway company is assessed 50 per cent of the cost of paving.

b.—For public services

No special assessments are levied for public services.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

MASSACHUSETTS.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

For certain municipal outlays or public improvements of a permanent character made by the municipalities of Massachusetts, special assessments on real property benefited are levied as follows:

For opening and grading streets: Waltham, one-half of the cost; Lowell and Newton, the total cost; Springfield, usually one-half of the cost; Brookline, usually the total cost; Fitchburg, usually about one-half of the cost of opening streets; Malden, one-third of the cost of opening and improving private ways taken over by the city for new streets.

For paving streets and alleys: Waltham, one-half of the cost; Newton, the total cost; Springfield, usually one-half of the cost; Boston, average, about one-half of the cost; Pittsfield, two-thirds of the cost of paving streets.

For curbs and sidewalks: Quincy, one-third of the cost; Brockton, Chelsea, Everett, Haverhill, Holyoke, Lawrence, and Pittsfield, one-half of the cost; Worcester, three-fourths of the cost; Lowell, the total cost; Boston, average, about one-half of the cost; Cambridge, the cost of the material only; Newton and Waltham, one-half of the cost if not in excess of 1 per cent of the assessed valuation of the abutting property; Lynn, Malden, New Bedford, and Somerville, one-half of the cost of sidewalks; Fall River, for sidewalks, an amount not to exceed 1 per cent of the assessed valuation; Fitchburg, for sidewalks, one-half of the cost, and for curbs, the cost of the material only; Springfield, for sidewalks, the total cost, and for curbs, the cost of the material only.

For street betterments, Worcester, from 50 per cent to 100 per cent of the cost according to the benefits derived. For street betterments, including curbing and the original grading of streets, but not regrading, Somerville, one-half of the adjudged benefits, the assessments usually amounting to more than one-half of the cost, but always less than the total cost.

For sewers: Taunton, one-third of the cost; Brookline, three-fourths of the cost; Everett, 50 cents per front foot; Boston, average, about one-half of the cost, but not exceeding $4 per running foot; Cambridge, 28 cents per front foot and 5.2 mills additional per square foot to a depth of 100 feet; Fitchburg, from 55 to 83 cents per front foot according to the distance from the sewer, amounting to about one-fifth of the cost; Lawrence, 6.5 mills per square foot to a depth of 100 feet of adjoining lots; Worcester, from a small fraction of the cost in the case of expensive work, to the total cost in the case of inexpensive work, averaging from $1.25 to $1.80 per front foot, or about one-half of the cost; Lowell, 1 cent per square foot up to 100 feet depth of adjoining lots, usually amounting, in the case of lateral sewers, to about one-half of the cost; Pittsfield, 23½ per cent of the cost of lateral sewers and of certain trunk sewers; New Bedford, an amount not to exceed three-fourths of the cost, averaging, in the case of trunk sewers, about 15 per cent of the cost, and in the case of lateral sewers, about one-half of the cost. For sewers, Malden, $1 per front foot, or in lieu thereof, certain specified annual assessments, the property owner having each year the option of discontinuing the annual assessments and paying the single assessment of $1 per front foot, either in lump sum or in installments, the annual assessments being as follows: For unoccupied land, 5 cents per front foot; for each building not using city water, an amount determined according to the circumstances; and for each single dwelling house using city water, from $5 to $15 according to the water rates for the house and 5 cents additional for each front foot exceeding 100 feet.

For lateral sewers: Newton, one-half of the cost; Holyoke, two-thirds of the cost; Chelsea, three-fourths of the cost; Waltham, 99 per cent of the cost; Lynn, the total cost; Quincy, about one-third of the cost; Somerville, usually less than the cost; assessments amounting to the total cost being authorized by law; Salem, 50 cents per front foot; Brockton, average, about 50 cents per linear foot;

Haverhill, assessments per front foot, amounting to about two-thirds of the cost.

b.—For public services.

For current expenses sustained or public services performed by the cities of Massachusetts, special assessments on real property benefited are levied as follows:

For the protection of trees by moth extermination, all cities, the total cost of work done on private property if not in excess of one-half of 1 per cent of the assessed valuation.

For street sprinkling: Quincy, one-half the cost; Brockton, Chelsea, Haverhill, Lawrence, Lowell, Lynn, Malden, Pittsfield, Salem, Somerville, Springfield, Taunton, and Worcester, the total cost; Fall River, 2 cents per front foot; Cambridge, 4 cents per front foot; Newton and Waltham, 3 cents per front foot, amounting to less than the cost; Fitchburg, assessments per front foot varying according to the width of the street and amounting to about two-thirds or three-fourths of the cost.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

No general license taxes are imposed by Massachusetts cities.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

Annual license taxes on dogs are levied by cities of Massachusetts, as follows: Boston and Chelsea, males $2, and females $5; Worcester, males and females $1.

MICHIGAN.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

Of Michigan's eight cities of 30,000 inhabitants and over, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Kalamazoo, and Saginaw levy the entire cost of street opening upon the benefited property as special assessments; Detroit levies assessments for 85 per cent and Flint for 75 per cent of the costs for the same purpose. Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Lansing, and Saginaw assess against the benefited property the full cost and Flint 75 per cent of the cost of grading streets.

All cities of Michigan levy upon benefited property for paving streets and alleys; Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Kalamazoo, and Saginaw assessing the entire cost, Bay City 70 per cent, and Lansing 66½ per cent of the cost.

Bay City assesses 70 per cent of the cost of paving alleys, laying sidewalks, and setting curbs; the other cities assess the entire cost against benefited property.

Bay City and Grand Rapids levy against the property owners 100 per cent, Flint 75 per cent, and Lansing 83½ per cent of the costs of trunk sewers, and Saginaw assesses for such sewers the estimated cost of a 12-inch lateral.

All the Michigan cities reported levy special assessments for building lateral sewers ranging from 75 per cent of the cost to the entire amount. Flint taxes the property owner 75 per cent and Lansing 83½ per cent of the costs. The other cities levy a special assessment for the entire cost of the construction of lateral sewers.

b.—For public services.

No special assessments for public services are levied except that in Flint the cost of making water and sewer connections is charged to the property owner and collected as special assessment taxes.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

No business taxes are collected without issue of license in Michigan.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for each city the kinds of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

3.—GENERAL BUSINESS TAXES.

Grand Rapids collects a temporary automobile license tax of $1 for each automobile, good for 10 days, which is presumed to be about the length of time required to secure a state license. When a state license is secured this tax is refunded.

Kalamazoo taxes bicycles 50 cents each per year. No other Michigan city reported general license taxes.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

Dog license taxes are collected by the different cities at the following rates, each, per year:

Bay City, Detroit, and Saginaw, males $1, and females $2; Grand Rapids, Jackson, and Lansing, males $1, and females $3; Flint, males, $1.50 and females $3; Kalamazoo, males $2, and females $5.

MINNESOTA.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

The entire cost of opening, grading, and paving streets, setting curbs, constructing sidewalks and paving alleys is assessed against the benefited property in each of the three cities having a population of over 30,000. The entire cost of trunk and lateral sewers in Duluth and St. Paul, and of lateral sewers in Minneapolis, if the amount does not exceed $1.50 per front foot, is assessed against the benefited property. The cost of water main extensions, provided the cost does not exceed 90 cents per front foot in Minneapolis and $1 in St. Paul, is assessed against the benefited property. In Duluth 8 per cent of the cost of the extension of both water and gas mains is assessed against the benefited property annually for a period not exceeding 15 years, but such assessments are deemed to have been fully paid whenever the gross receipts from rates in any year shall equal or exceed, for water, one-half the cost and, for gas, one-third of the cost of such extensions. In Minneapolis the cost of park improvements is assessed against the benefited property and the cost of parkways in streets against the abutting property.

b.—For public services.

The cost of sprinkling streets is assessed against the benefited property in each of the three cities reported in Minnesota.

The cost of repairing sidewalks, oiling parkways, and planting trees along parkways in Minneapolis, and of trimming trees and cutting grass in St. Paul is assessed against the benefited property.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

In each city the state collects on the gross premiums of foreign fire insurance companies a tax of 2 per cent which is paid into the firemen's relief fund of the city in which collected.

A tax of 5 per cent in St. Paul is levied on the gross earnings of trust companies and of public-service corporations other than street railways.

In Minneapolis there is levied a tax of one-fourth of 1 mill on each bushel of wheat and flaxseed and one-eighth of 1 mill per bushel on all other grain received or handled in elevators.

There is a charge of $2 imposed upon each person who is permitted to carry a pistol in the city of St. Paul.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

In Duluth the dog license tax is $1.50 for each male and $5 for each female, per year; in Minneapolis and St. Paul the annual rates are $1 for each male and $3 for each female.

SPECIFIED SOURCES OF REVENUE—MISSOURI.

MISSOURI.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

Kansas City and Springfield assess against benefited property 100 per cent, St. Joseph about 90 per cent, and St. Louis 95 per cent of the cost of opening streets. Joplin, Kansas City, and Springfield assess against benefited property 100 per cent, and St. Joseph about 90 per cent of the cost of street grading. All costs of paving streets and alleys, of setting curbs and laying sidewalks are assessed against abutting property in all cities reported. Kansas City distributes the entire costs of trunk and lateral sewers over districts, by special assessment; Joplin, St. Louis, and Springfield assess abutting property for the cost of constructing lateral sewers.

b.—For public services.

The costs of street sprinkling in Joplin and St. Louis, and of street oiling in Joplin and St. Joseph are assessed against property benefited.

2.—BUSINESS LICENSES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

St. Louis taxes merchants and manufacturers at the rate of $1 on every $1,000 of sales, and street railway companies 1 mill for each passenger carried during the year.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for each city the kinds of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

No general license taxes are collected.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

The tax on male dogs is $2 each and on female dogs $5 each per year.

NEW JERSEY.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

Bayonne and Orange levy special assessments for the entire cost of opening, grading, and paving streets, paving alleys, setting curbs, laying sidewalks, and constructing trunk and lateral sewers. Camden, East Orange, Hoboken, Jersey City, Newark, Passaic, Trenton, and West Hoboken assess the costs of such improvements according to benefits, except those for opening streets in Camden and for constructing trunk and lateral sewers in East Orange and trunk sewers in Passaic.

Atlantic City assesses benefited property for two-thirds of the cost of paving streets and for the entire cost of laying sidewalks.

Elizabeth levies special assessments according to benefits for opening, grading, and paving streets and paving alleys and for the full cost of curbs and sewers. Paterson levies special assessments according to benefits for opening and grading streets, setting curbs, and constructing sewers; for two-thirds of the cost of paving streets and alleys, and for the entire cost of laying sidewalks.

Perth Amboy levies against benefited property special assessments for the entire cost of grading streets, setting curbs, laying sidewalks, building sewers, and for two-thirds of the cost of paving streets and alleys.

In Camden the cost of water-main extensions is assessed against property owners, at 60 cents per linear foot, while East Orange levies special assessments for the cost of drains.

b.—For public services.

Newark levies special assessments for care of shade trees.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

All cities in New Jersey collect a tax of 2 per cent on the gross premiums of fire insurance companies and the receipts from this source are distributed equally between the firemen's pension funds and the firemen's relief associations in the cities where collected. According to an act of the legislature, cities are empowered to levy a tax of 5 per cent on the gross receipts of auto busses.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for each city the kinds of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

Jersey City issues licenses for garages, both public and private, at $5 each per year, and revolver permits at $10 each per year.

Newark collects a tax of $1 each per year for revolver permits.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

License taxes on dogs are collected by the different cities at the following rates, each, per year:

Atlantic City, Elizabeth, Jersey City, Newark, Paterson, Perth Amboy, and West Hoboken, males and females, $1; Bayonne, males $2, females $5; East Orange and Orange, males $1, females $3; Hoboken and Trenton, males and females, $2; Passaic, males $2, females, $3.

NEW YORK.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

The following paragraphs specify the kinds of special assessments for specified public improvements levied against benefited property in the different cities:

For opening streets, Albany, Binghamton, Buffalo, Mount Vernon, Niagara Falls, Rochester, Schenectady, Syracuse, and Utica assess the entire cost against the property benefited; New Rochelle, all costs in excess of $5,000; Troy, 50 per cent of the cost; Amsterdam, 75 per cent; and Poughkeepsie, about 90 per cent. New York City assesses about 93 per cent of the cost of opening streets and parks. For grading streets, Albany, Buffalo, Mount Vernon, Rochester, Schenectady, and Syracuse, assess the entire cost; Amsterdam, 75 per cent; Poughkeepsie, 60 per cent; Troy, 50 per cent; and New Rochelle, all costs in excess of $5,000.

For paving streets, Albany, Jamestown, Niagara Falls, Rochester, Schenectady, and Syracuse, assess against benefited property the entire cost; Amsterdam, Auburn, Binghamton, and Troy, 50 per cent; Elmira, 20 per cent; Mount Vernon, New Rochelle, and Utica, 66⅔ per cent; New York, about 93 per cent; Poughkeepsie, 60 per cent; and Buffalo, two-thirds of the cost of repaving and the total cost of original paving.

Alley paving in the different cities is assessed at the same rates as street paving, except in Elmira, where the entire cost of paving alleys is assessed against the benefited property, and in Mount Vernon, New York, Poughkeepsie, and Utica, where no special assessments for alley paving were reported.

For setting curbs, Albany, Amsterdam, Auburn, Elmira, Mount Vernon, Niagara Falls, Poughkeepsie, Syracuse, and Schenectady assess the entire cost against benefited property; Binghamton and Jamestown, 50 per cent; and Utica, 66⅔ per cent. Buffalo, New York, and Rochester include the cost of curbs with special assessments for paving. New Rochelle assesses for curbs at $2 per lineal foot on each side of the street; Troy, 50 per cent of the cost of curbs constructed in connection with paving and the entire cost of curbs constructed after paving.

For sidewalk construction, the entire cost is assessed against benefited property in Albany, Amsterdam, Auburn, Buffalo, Elmira, Jamestown, Mount Vernon, New Rochelle, Niagara Falls, Poughkeepsie, Rochester, Schenectady, Syracuse, Troy and Utica; one-half of the cost in Binghamton; and $2 per lineal foot on each side of the street in New Rochelle.

For sewers, both trunk and lateral, Albany, Auburn, Rochester, and Utica assess the entire cost against benefited property; Binghamton, not exceeding 80 cents per running foot; New Rochelle, $2 per lineal foot on each side of the street; Poughkeepsie, not to exceed $3 per lineal foot; Syracuse, ordinarily the entire cost, but in exceptional cases for building trunk sewers, only part of the cost; Troy, the entire cost of sewers less than 24 inches in diameter and 50 per cent of the cost of sewers 24 inches or more in diameter. Buffalo, Jamestown, Mount Vernon and Schenectady assess the total cost of lateral sewers; and New York, about 93 per cent of the cost of sewers and receiving basins.

New York city assesses against benefited property about 93 per cent of the cost of fencing lots and of outlays for flagging; Niagara Falls, one-half of the cost of decorative lighting and the entire cost of gas, sewer, and water connections.

Yonkers has no uniform rates for special assessments for public improvements, but determines the amount of assessments for each improvement by a special ordinance.

b.—For public services.

For street sprinkling Auburn, Buffalo, Elmira, and Syracuse assess the full cost against benefited property; and Rochester, 50 per cent of the cost of street cleaning and that portion of the cost of street sprinkling not paid by the street railway company.

Auburn assesses against benefited property three-fourths of the cost of inner lighting or lighting with ornamental posts on street edges; Mount Vernon, 50 per cent of the cost of lighting with ornamental pillars and cluster lamps; Syracuse and Troy, the full cost of ornamental lighting.

Binghamton, Buffalo, Elmira, Poughkeepsie, Rochester, and Utica assess against benefited property the full cost of snow removal or sidewalk cleaning; and Rochester, the total cost of repairing sidewalks.

Mount Vernon assesses a hydrant rental tax of 3½ cents per front foot against property within 500 feet of any fire hydrant. Buffalo assesses against the property benefited the full cost of cutting weeds, removing rubbish, oiling streets, and repairing lateral sewers.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

Taxes amounting to 2 per cent of the premiums received by agents of foreign fire insurance companies, and 1 per cent of the gross premiums or assessments of foreign mutual fire insurance companies or associations, are collected in the different cities of the state and paid to the firemen's pension funds and firemen's benevolent associations of the respective cities. New Rochelle collects a tax of 3 per cent on the gross receipts of automobile omnibusses.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for the different cities each kind of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

¹ Collected by the state; one-half of resident license taxes collected by the state are paid to the city.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

Annual license taxes on dogs are levied by the cities of New York state, except New York, as follows: Niagara Falls, males, $1, females, $3; other cities, males and females, $1.

NORTH CAROLINA.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

The entire cost of paving streets and sidewalks is assessed against benefited property in Charlotte and Winston-Salem.

In Charlotte all property is assessed annually at the rate of 3 cents per front foot for construction and maintenance of sewers.

b.—For public services.

No special assessments are levied for public services.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

Fire insurance companies except such as invest three-fourths of their capital in the state or in state securities pay to the state a tax of one-half of 1 per cent of gross premiums collected. The state pays to the treasurer of each city having an organized fire department complying with certain requirements, the amount of such taxes collected in that city for the benefit of the local firemen's relief fund.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show the kinds of business licensed and the tax rates imposed for the periods specified.

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

Motor vehicle operators are taxed $2 each per year in the three North Carolina cities.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

There is an annual tax on all dogs of $1 each in Charlotte and in Wilmington.

OHIO.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

Akron and Cincinnati levy special assessments against benefited real property for 98 per cent of the cost of street opening. Cleveland assesses benefited property 100 per cent of the cost of grading streets, and Akron, Canton, Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Springfield, Toledo, and Youngstown, 98 per cent of such costs. All cities reported levy special assessments for 98 per cent of the costs of paving streets and alleys and setting curbs, with the exception that in Lorain 85 per cent of such costs and in Zanesville 60 per cent of the cost of paving alleys is so assessed. Hamilton and Youngstown assess benefited property for 98 per cent of the cost of constructing sidewalks and Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Lima, Lorain, Springfield, Toledo, and Zanesville 100 per cent of the costs of such improvements.

Dayton, Hamilton, Lima, Lorain, Springfield, Toledo, and Youngstown assess 98 per cent and Canton 100 per cent of the costs of trunk sewers against the benefited property. In Akron the property is assessed for trunk sewers to the amount of the cost of an 8-inch pipe. Any additional cost is paid by the city unless a sewer district is created, in which case benefited property is assessed for the total cost. In Canton, Dayton, Hamilton, and Lima the entire cost of lateral sewers is assessed against the property benefited, while in Akron, Cincinnati, Columbus, Lorain, Springfield, Toledo, Youngstown, and Zanesville 98 per cent of such cost are likewise assessed. Cleveland imposes a flat rate of $2.50 per front foot for lateral sewers.

In Columbus benefited property is assessed for regrading and repaving streets and resetting curbs at the rate of 98 per cent of the cost less one-half of the cost of the original improvement; in Springfield benefited property is assessed for one-half of the cost of regrading streets, repaving streets and alleys, resetting curbs, and renewals of sidewalks and sewers; and in Cleveland the percentage of the cost of repaving to be assessed is fixed at not to exceed 50 per cent.

Toledo assesses 100 per cent of the cost of high-pressure mains, and Columbus 100 per cent of the cost of installing cluster lights.

b.—For public services.

Columbus and Toledo assess the entire cost of street sprinkling upon the benefited property. Five cities—Akron, Dayton, Columbus, Toledo, and Youngstown—levy special assessments on property benefited for the entire cost of street cleaning. Cincinnati and Hamilton levy special assessments against the benefited property for the entire expense of street oiling.

Akron levies special assessments for the cost of white-way lighting; Dayton for the cost of boulevard lighting; Toledo 50 per cent in the residential districts and 85 per cent in the business district for street lighting; and Youngstown from 40 cents to 60 cents per front foot for street lighting.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

No business taxes are collected without issue of a license in Ohio cities.

Cleveland taxes males $1, females $2; Lima, males 25 cents, females $2; Springfield, males 50 cents, females $1.50; Toledo, males $1, females $2; Youngstown, males, $1, females, $3.

OKLAHOMA.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

The three cities of Oklahoma levy special assessments against benefited property for the entire cost of opening, grading, and paving streets and alleys and constructing curbs and sidewalks. Tulsa levies, also, special assessments against benefited property for the entire cost of constructing lateral sewers.

b.—For public services.

The only city reporting special assessment taxes for public services is Oklahoma City, in which the benefited property is assessed with the full cost of cutting weeds.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

A tax of 2 per cent on the gross premiums of foreign insurance companies is collected by the state. One-half of the receipts in each city is paid to the local firemen's pension fund.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for each city the kinds of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

The costs of opening, paving, and grading streets and paving alleys, setting curbs, constructing sidewalks and trunk and lateral sewers, and installing water mains are assessed against benefited property in Portland, the only city of over 30,000 inhabitants in the state of Oregon.

b.—For public services.

No assessments are levied for public services.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

No business taxes are collected without the issue of a license.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statement shows for the city of Portland the kinds of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified:

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

The state collects on all automobiles, at various rates, a general license tax and returns to each of the cities reported one-fourth of the amount collected on the machines licensed in that city. In Oklahoma City there is also a license tax on electric automobiles of $25 each per year and on automobile drivers of $1 each for an unlimited period of time. Muskogee also issues an automobile driver's license at $1 each per year.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

The taxes levied upon dogs in Oklahoma City are $1.50 per year for each male and $3 per year for each female; in Muskogee the rates are $1.50 per year for each male and $2.50 for each female, while in Tulsa they are $3 per year for each male and $5 per year for each female.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

The annual license taxes on dogs are at the rate of $3 for each male and $5 for each female.

PENNSYLVANIA.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

For specified public outlays or improvements in Pennsylvania cities special assessments on real property benefited are levied by the various municipalities as follows:

Pittsburgh, the amount to which the property is adjudged to be benefited averaging, during the fiscal year reported, about one-fourth of the cost of the opening of streets, four-fifths of the cost of the construction of lateral sewers, and two-fifths of the cost of improvements made on combined contracts for the grading of streets, the construction of curbs, and the paving of streets and alleys.

McKeesport, for the extension of water mains, the opening and grading of streets, the paving of streets and alleys, and the construction of curbs, sidewalks, and sewers, except storm sewers, the amount to which the property is adjudged to be benefited, sometimes equalling the entire cost, and averaging about five-sixths of the cost.

For the extension of water mains: Allentown and Reading, 50 cents per front foot; Philadelphia, $1 per front foot; Altoona, the total cost; Harrisburg, in new sections of the city, the total cost.

For the opening of streets: New Castle, two-thirds of the cost; Altoona, Chester, Harrisburg, and Reading, the total cost.

For the grading of streets: New Castle, two-thirds of the cost; Chester, Erie, Harrisburg, Reading, and Scranton, the total cost.

For the paving of streets: Johnstown and New Castle, two-thirds of the cost; Chester, four-fifths; Allentown, Altoona, Easton, Erie, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Williamsport, and York, the total cost, the contract price for such improvements in Allentown being collected by the contractors directly from the owners of the benefited property.

For the paving of alleys: Johnstown and New Castle, two-thirds of the cost; Chester, nine-tenths; Altoona, Erie, Norristown, Philadelphia, Reading, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, and Williamsport, the total cost.

For the construction of curbs: New Castle, two-thirds of the cost; Altoona, Chester, Erie, Harrisburg, Johnstown, Norristown, Reading, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, and Williamsport, the total cost.

For the construction of sidewalks: Altoona, Chester, Erie, Johnstown, New Castle, Norristown, Scranton, and Williamsport, the total cost.

For the construction of sewers: Harrisburg, $1.25 per front foot; Philadelphia, $2.50 per front foot; New Castle, two-thirds of the cost; Chester, four-fifths; Erie, Reading, and Scranton, the total cost; Altoona, the total cost of lateral sewers; Norristown and Williamsport, the total cost of all sewers except storm sewers; Johnstown, the total cost of lateral sewers, and $1 per front foot for trunk sewers, the assessments for trunk sewers to be paid when the property owners make connections.

b.—For public services.

In Williamsport, for the oiling of streets and the removal of snow from sidewalks, special assessments on real property benefited are levied by the city to the amount of the total cost.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

No business taxes are collected by Pennsylvania cities without the issue of a license.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statement shows for the different cities each kind of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

RHODE ISLAND.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

Special assessments are levied upon benefited property for the entire cost of sidewalk construction in Providence and for one-half of such cost in Pawtucket.

In Providence special assessments are levied at a flat rate of 75 cents per linear foot for straight curbs and $1 per linear foot for circular curbs. In Pawtucket and Woonsocket assessments are made for the cost of the curbs and other materials, the cost of labor being paid from the general city treasury.

Providence levies special assessments for lateral sewers at the rate of 60 cents per front foot and 1 cent for each square foot of area, not exceeding 150 feet distant from and parallel with the street line. Woonsocket lays an assessment of 75 per cent of the costs of both trunk and lateral sewers on the benefited property and Pawtucket an assessment of from 35 per cent to 45 per cent of the cost of construction.

b.—For public services.

No special assessments are levied for public services.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

In all Rhode Island cities auction sales are taxed one-tenth of 1 per cent of the proceeds, and 87.5 per cent of this amount is remitted direct to the State by the auctioneers conducting the sales, and 12.5 per cent is paid into the city treasury.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for the different cities each kind of business licensed and the rate of tax imposed for the period specified.

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

Providence collects $2 per year for each permit to carry a pistol.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

Rhode Island cities tax each male dog $1 per year and each female dog $5 per year.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

In Charleston and Columbia the benefited property is assessed with two-thirds and one-half, respectively, of the cost of paving streets and sidewalks. The latter rate applies also to paving alleys in Columbia. In addition to these, in Columbia, when curbs are set in connection with either street or sidewalk paving, their cost is included with that of the improvement in connection with which they are set.

b.—For public services.

Neither city performs any service for which special assessments are levied.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

Each city receives through the state a tax of 1 per cent on the gross premiums collected by fire insurance companies licensed to do business within the state. Insurance companies not so licensed can place insurance in the state only through insurance brokers who are licensed by the state for that purpose. A tax of 4 per cent is imposed on the premiums which they collect, one-half of the amount of such collections in each city being returned by the state to the city where collected for the equal benefit of the city corporation and the firemen's insurance and inspection fund.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for each city the kinds of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

3.—GENERAL LICENSE TAXES.

The general license taxes levied in the two cities of South Carolina of over 30,000 inhabitants are as follows: Charleston, chauffeurs $1, each, per year; Columbia, automobiles and motorcycles $1 each and bicycles 10 cents each, per year.

4.—LICENSE TAXES ON DOGS.

In both of the cities reported in this state there is an annual license tax of $1.50 on each dog.

TENNESSEE.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

For opening and grading streets in Memphis, for paving alleys in Memphis and Knoxville, and for paving streets in Memphis, Knoxville, Chattanooga, and Nashville, two-thirds of the costs are assessed against the benefited property, except that in Chattanooga special assessments for street paving can not exceed 25 per cent of the value of the assessed property, exclusive of improvements thereon, and in Knoxville all the costs of street and alley paving may, under certain conditions, be paid out of the general treasury.

In Nashville and Chattanooga the entire cost of sidewalks and curbs is assessed against the properties benefited.

b.—For public services.

No one of the 4 cities reported performs any public service for which special assessments are levied against benefited property.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

No business taxes are collected without the issue of a license.

b.—Collected with issue of license.

The following statements show for the different cities each kind of business licensed and the rates of tax imposed for the periods specified.

WISCONSIN.

1.—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

a.—For public improvements.

For certain public outlays or improvements made by the cities of Wisconsin, special assessments on real property benefited are levied as follows:

For the opening of streets: Kenosha, La Crosse, Madison and Superior, the total cost; Milwaukee and Oshkosh, the amount to which the property is adjudged to be benefited; Racine, not to exceed 5 per cent of the assessed valuation of the property.

For the grading of streets: La Crosse, Madison, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, and Superior, the total cost; Racine, 40 cents per front foot.

For the paving of streets and alleys and the construction or improvement of curbing and sidewalks: Kenosha, La Crosse, Oshkosh, Racine, and Superior, the total cost; Madison, the total cost of sidewalks and two-thirds of the cost of curbing and of paving streets and alleys; Milwaukee, the total cost of paving streets, up to $3 per square yard and one-half of the remainder, if any, and the total cost of curbing and sidewalks and of paving alleys.

For the construction or improvement of trunk sewers: Madison and Superior the total cost; La Crosse and Oshkosh, $1.60 per lineal foot.

For the construction or improvement of lateral sewers: La Crosse, Madison, and Superior, the total cost; Oshkosh, $1.60 per lineal foot; Kenosha, from $1.41 to $4 per lineal foot; Racine, not to exceed $1.50 per lineal foot; Milwaukee, the total cost up to $1.60 per lineal foot.

For breakwater construction or improvement special assessments are levied in Kenosha to the amount to which the property is adjudged to be benefited, which sometimes equals the entire cost. For stone wall construction or improvement for the protection of the Lake Michigan shore special assessments are levied in Racine for a part of the cost.

For the extensions of water mains Madison levies one-half the cost and Milwaukee levies the total cost up to $1.20 per lineal foot.

b.—For public services.

For certain current expenses sustained or public services performed by the cities of Wisconsin, special assessments on real property benefited are levied as follows: For sprinkling streets: Kenosha, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Racine, and Superior, the total cost. For oiling streets: Kenosha and Milwaukee, the total cost; Racine, an unreported proportion of the cost. For the ornamental lighting of streets in the business section of Kenosha and for Corinthian or "white way" lighting in Racine, two-thirds of the cost. For the removal of snow and ice and for cutting weeds: Kenosha, La Crosse, Madison, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, and Racine, the total cost. For repairing sidewalks: Milwaukee and Oshkosh, the total cost; Superior, an unreported proportion of the cost. For cleaning vaults, La Crosse, the total cost. For scavenger work, Superior, an unreported proportion of the cost.

2.—BUSINESS TAXES OTHER THAN ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

a.—Collected without issue of license.

All the cities reported collect without the issue of a license certain business taxes levied at rates prescribed by the statutes, as follows:

The tax on net incomes ranges from 1 to 6 per cent, of which 70 per cent is retained by the city collecting, 10 per cent is paid to the state, and 20 per cent is paid to the county in which collected, special provisions being made in the case of proprietors of grain elevators or warehouses. The tax on the gross earnings of telephone companies varies from 2½ per cent to 5 per cent, the city retaining 85 per cent of the tax, and the state receiving the remainder. Casualty insurance companies are taxed 2 per cent of their gross premiums; fire and marine insurance companies, 2½ per cent of their gross premiums; and life insurance companies, 3 per cent of their gross income from all sources.

b.—Collected with issue of license.
